Good Zoos and Bad Zoos

There are of course good zoos and bad zoos. Bad zoos are often in cities. They are old and dirty and there is not much room for the animals. Animals and birds live in small cages. Visitors stand in front of them all day and watch them, but the animals have nothing to do and nowhere to go. They can only wait for their food, and many get ill or die.

Things are different in a good zoo. People think about the animals and want them to be happy. Some animals like living with or near other animals; some do not. Some animals love seeing visitors and playing games, but a lot of animals like to sleep quietly by day. Most animals want to look for food; they do not want someone to give it to them. Many animals want a lot of land, trees and a high place to see from.

Good zoos make the right home for every animal and sometimes they are the only place for animals in danger. They can live there and scientists can learn about them. The animals can have babies in the zoo and one day perhaps the babies can go back to their natural home and be free again.

This is a letter from James's niece, Emma.

Dear Uncle James,

Hi! How are you? I finished my homework a minute ago so now I can write to you.

Mum and Dad are not at home. They WENT - ARE GOING to the cinema. I COULDN'T GO - CAN'T GO with them because I STUDY - AM STUDYING for an English test. Anyway, I must tell you something. Yesterday I saw an advertisement for a camping holiday in California in a magazine. I would LOVE GO - LOVE TO GO. Do you think Mum and Dad will say yes? COULD YOU WRITE - DO YOU WRITE to them and ask them to let me go? Thank you.

Love,

Emma
